MEMORANDUM FOR: Acting Deputy to the DCI for the Intelligence Community

FROM: Director of Central Intelligence

1. A friend named  called me the other day and said he had applied for a job with the IC Staff. He received a fairly standard response that we did not have an opening.

2. I'd appreciate if somebody could dig out his resume and look it over. He would really like an administrative job with NSA (he lives in Baltimore). I haven't seen him in a very long time and hence have no personal evaluation of his capabilities. What I'd like to know is whether his resume makes him look like a favorable prospect for somebody, or whether he's just another jobhunter. Thanks.
